

Hobby Horse Farms

January Newsletter

2015 was an eventful year for Hobby Horse Farms. It was a year full of ups and downs, wins and losses.

To The Max

Jillian and Max had an exciting CHJA show season, especially because Max had just come off a long term injury.

This is a true comeback story, as Max's prognosis was not good. Though she didn't know if she'd ever be able to ride him again, Jillian and her team nursed Max back to health over several months.

It was worth the time and energy and now the pair are preparing for the 2016 show season!

Mr. and Mrs.

Hobby Horse Farms is not just a barn, it is a community.

Last year we were pleased to celebrate the wedding of one of our friends, Jamie Prashaw!

Jamie and Jeff celebrated their nuptials in the stunning mountains of Arapahoe Basin.

Congratulations to the beautiful couple!

A Place in Our Hearts

2015 was a year of joy and firsts but also a year of loss. Unfortunately, Hobby Horse Farms lost a true friend when Symon, the barn's long timeschooling horse passed due to colic.

Symon was a first ride for many new equestrians. He was gentle, kind and friendly. Symon was known throughout the barn and played a large role in teaching riders to love the sport. He lived a long and happy life. Simon was loved by all and will be missed.

End Year Awards

Congratulations to the Hobby Horse Farms CHJA 2015 award winners!

Julie and Coolidge ~ 3rd Place in Amateur Hunter 36 and over.

Delaney and Just Fritz ~ Reserve Champion Medium Stirrup Hunter.
3rd Place Medium Stirrup Equitation.

Fletcher and Sk8er Boi ~ 4th place Combined Pony Hunters. 4th Place Pony Equitation.

Chelsea and Charlie ~ 4th place Beginner Amateur Equitation 18-35.

Thank you to all of the amazing trainers at Hobby Horse Farms for making the 2015 show season great!

The Future Looks Bright

Hobby Horse Farms has already been busy in 2016 with schooling shows and IEA (Interscholastic Equestrian Association) shows.

We look forward to what the new year has to bring, the friendships that will grow (with human and with horse) and celebrating life's ups and downs.

Here's to an amazing 2016!
